

Have you experienced
bladder leaks when exercising, coughing or sneezing?

Had a treatment called urethral bulking involving an injection into the urethra to help keep you dry?

Would you be willing to contribute to a student research project exploring women's experiences of this treatment?

If the answer is yes, I'd like to invite you to take part in an interview with me (someone who has had both) to share your experiences of bladder leakage and the difference that having urethral bulking has made for you.
